

Sample Responses Double Entry Notes Worksheet—Oregon Department of Education

Read the excerpt from the Associated Press article in USA Today “Biggest Wi-Fi Cloud is in Rural Oregon” by Callimachi. (Remember to refer to the handout for the source code. Use paragraph number instead of page number.)

(¶ 4) Similar wireless projects have been stymied in major metropolitan areas by telephone and cable TV companies, which have poured money into legislative bills aimed at discouraging such competition. In Philadelphia, for instance, plans to blanket the entire city with Wi-Fi fueled a battle in the Pennsylvania legislature with Verizon Communications Inc., leading to a law that limits the ability of every other municipality in the state to do the same.

(¶ 5) But here among the thistle, large providers such as local phone company Qwest Communications International Inc. see little profit potential. So wireless entrepreneur Fred Ziari drew no resistance for his proposed wireless network, enabling him to quickly build the $5 million cloud at his own expense.

Write two double entry note cards for the excerpt. Use the keywords discussed or make up your own.

Keyword/Category Opposition	Source 4. Callimachi
Author's information <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>usually the telephone &amp; cable TV companies oppose the wi-fi clouds. (¶ 4)</li> <li>In the Hermiston area, however, the project “drew no resistance.” (¶ 5)</li> </ul>	My ideas and reactions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Is that because the companies weren't providing any internet access at all? Or just not high-speed access? The Stone article said the companies “ignored” the area. Keep looking. Or maybe only spots had any access.</li> <li>At any rate, no point looking for who opposed it. Apparently nobody did.</li> </ul>

Keyword/Category Cost	Source 4. Callimachi
Author's information <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>“wireless entrepreneur Fred Ziari ... build the $5 million cloud at his own expense.” (¶ 5)</li> </ul>	My ideas and reactions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>That's how much it cost to build – probably towers and stuff.</li> <li>The Stone article has more about Ziari &amp; the network.</li> <li>Still doesn't say who pays for the service and how much it costs to run it. Keep looking.</li> </ul>

On a separate paper, write one or two short statements incorporating the information. Be sure to use your own wording and sentence structure, or quote directly. Use correct in-text citation.

usually the opposition to big wireless projects comes from the companies who already provide internet access to an area (Callimachi, ¶ 4). However, the phone and cable TV companies had “ignored” the Hermiston region (Stone, 143). So, there was no opposition to the project there (Callimachi, ¶ 5).